

Six Reasons People Are Happy About Hair Transplants

1. New technologies make it cheaper, safe, and pain-free.

In the olden days, you could tell a mile away that someone has had “plugs” done. These days, with new technologies, results are impeccable, and the pricing is going down. What’s more, procedures are safe and many of them are pain-free.

2. You will look great.

Having hair makes you look younger. It’s a fact. A receding hair line or partial baldness frequently screams age. Some claim that having a hair transplant takes off at least five years. So, if you want to be able to say that age is just a number, a hair transplant is the way to go. Looking younger inspires people to lead a healthier lifestyle, work out, dress differently, etc. All it takes is one simple procedure to turn your life around.

3. You will feel great.

It is a well-known fact that well-groomed people are perceived as more successful, and thus are more successful. If you are a man, you know well that baldness does not suit everyone! Remember how you actually liked looking at yourself in the mirror? Having hair again will bring back your self-confidence and raise your self-esteem. No more worrying about how to cut and style your hair to hide what’s gone. No more thinking, “is he/she looking at my hair?” Your new self-confidence alone will be worth the cost.

4. No one will know the difference.

The gist of the most hair transplant procedures is that hair follicles from the back of your head are reinserted in areas where your hair is thinning. Because this is done on such a microscopic level, and due to an improvement in techniques and technology, the work is undetectable. The results look so natural that only a trained hair surgeon - if that - will be able to tell. With the advancement in technology, everything about your hair will be natural - the direction of growth, its pattern and much more. And, bottom line, it is your own hair to begin with.

5. You are not alone.

With plastic surgery on the rise, the number one procedure for men is hair transplantation. That comes as no surprise, given the advancements in technology. Both men and women are undergoing these procedures, especially as the prices continue to go down. And why not? You spend less than you do on trying to cover it up while looking fabulous!

6. You can do it more than once.

While transplanted hair is indeed permanent, hair loss may be an ongoing issue for some clients. The problem with hair loss - especially in young men - is that the hair loss continues even after you’ve had the procedure. But worry not - the procedure is repeatable. A client can always return to the clinic when they see more hair loss - to make sure that they always have the amount of hair they desire.
